

How a Bill Becomes a Law

How a Bill Becomes a Law

A legislator writes the bill.

The bill is discussed in committee.

The bill is debated by the house it was introduced in.

One house votes on the bill.

The bill is sent to the other house.

The bill is debated by the other house.

The other house votes on the bill.

The bill is signed into law by the governor or President.

